There are numerous amenities on campus for female students, ensuring that each one of them feels secure while attending college. New students at the college are concerned for her safety. But they found protection and security at the college. For the security of female students, women PCR is also provided. First aid services are also accessible on campus in case any female students get hurt. There is also an Internal Complaint/Sexual Harassment Cell on campus, which helps the newer students feel secure around the more experienced ones.

The campus offers counseling sessions to teach students how to control their emotions so they can participate in a variety of college activities that lead to the acceptance of responsibility. By offering counseling to create an environment in the classroom or college that allows the students to admit the feelings they are having, the teacher and the institute can support the development of functional maturity in teenagers. Particularly for girls, personal space is necessary. For them to communicate, have conversations with their colleagues, and take breaks as needed, this is crucial. Our college has acknowledged the importance of giving girls their place. The second floor is where you'll find the Girls' Common Room. In case of an emergency, the girls can relax in this room's wide bed and crib. For students, the college common room is a true heaven. Students are completely unrestricted in this area. The breaks are enjoyed by the students. There, they can unwind and have fun. Students talk for a long time between lessons. Retiring room for girls - As there are so many female college students, the main building maintains a separate ladies retiring area. The classroom has good furnishings, adequate amenities, and a teacher in charge.
